Impact and Innovation: Integrative Approaches to Holistic Health

October 17-18, 2024

Presenter Proposal Form

Submissions will be accepted for review through Friday, August 2, 2024.

Conference theme: Holistic Health

We are seeking content that educates attendees on emergent, evolving, or evidence-based practices that focus on the conference theme of holistic health. We invite speakers to offer engaging material addressing the physical, mental, social, and financial dimensions of health. We also encourage proposals that broaden knowledge regarding the social determinants of health: economic stability, food, education, neighborhood and environment, social and community context, and the health care system.

Proposal review and acceptance

Proposals will be reviewed by LSU School of Social Work faculty and continuing education staff.

Notification of proposal acceptance will be provided in late August 2024.

Accepted presenters are expected to register for the conference.
